rigorous curriculum with flexibility and practical applications.

The School houses two undergraduate degrees (BFA in Art / BFA in Art Education) and two graduate degrees (MFA in Art/ MAEd in Art Education). The programs include Animation/ Interactive Design, Art Education, Art Histories, Ceramics, Film and Video production, Graphic Design, Illustration, Metal Design, Painting, Printmaking, Photography, Sculpture, and Textile Design.

The facilities at the Leo W. Jenkins Fine Arts Center include more than eight computer labs, a letterpress shop, a foundry, a wood kiln, the Wellington B. Gray Gallery, (a teaching gallery with a rotating exhibition schedule) and more. Faculty also offer courses in book arts and letterpress. Digital facilities within the School of Art and Design offer various formats for digital printing and scanning in a number of labs, as well as laser cutters, CNC routers, 3D printers, and TC2 digital jacquard loom. A newly established, ECU-run hot-glass studio in nearby Farmville (15 miles west of campus) offers courses in glass art.

FINANCIAL AID

Assistantships are awarded on a competitive basis and currently paying $12,000 per academic year for a full-time assistantship of 20 hours per week. Some students may receive an out-of-state tuition remission (non-resident tuition charges waived), which are awarded based on merit. Remissions are competitive, with minimum 3.0 overall or 3.0 senior year GPA and a meritorious portfolio and application materials required. Additional financial support is also available through the Financial Aid Office.

MFA APPLICATION PROCESS

Admission to the East Carolina University School of Art and Design MFA degree program is a 2-step process.

1. Acceptance by the Graduate School for study at ECU
2. Acceptance by the School of Art and Design

Application materials include:

- Online application form
- Application fee
- Transcripts
- 3 letters of reference
- A statement of purpose
- Resume
